

Construction Manager - Sydney

The Role

This is a newly created role with the business and we're seeking someone who is a natural leader with experience managing and motivating a team of Project Managers, Engineers & Supervisors to deliver projects meeting management and the client's expectations. You will report directly to the General Manager and will be supported by the Commercial Manager for project cost control and technically by the Geotechnical Engineering team with construction techniques.

About the Company

Geovert is an established and progressive construction company that has offices in Australia and New Zealand that also deliver works throughout South East Asia and the Pacific. The Geotechnical work varies greatly from the design build of turnkey rockfall protection projects, ground engineering on road and rail projects for main contractors to ground improvement for infrastructure and mine sites for example. With this in mind you will need to be able to manage a range of technical work, remote project teams and deal with the logistics of significant regional mobilisations while building a strong delivery team.

Previous Experience

- 10+ years contracting in the construction specifically in ground engineering
- managing sites, crews and equipment while being able to drive projects along and assist senior management at an operations level.
- exposure to project management, commercial management, procurement, planning, site administration and estimating
- drilling and installation of ground anchors, micro piling, and foundation grouting and ground improvement projects

Role

- Monthly reporting to GM on all projects
- Key task is ensuring all facets of project delivery
- Direct management and supervision of all projects, teams and plant
- Working with HR to hire engineers, supervisors and operators and ensure they're suitable trained to complete all work tasks safely and competently
- Managing and developing supplier and subcontractor relationships
- Managing and driving change across the business
- Working closely with the Commercial Manager on project delivery
- Working with Design & Estimating Manager during tendering phase on constructability and during the hand over for the project start-up phase with the Project teams.

Personal

You must be clearly focused on safety and a quality performance driven outcome with effective planning from start up through the delivery phase on all projects based out of Mascot, Sydney. This position will require travel to and from project sites and sometimes internationally so you must be flexible around this.
